Administrative Achievements

I have been successful in gaining respect for the gerontology program as measured by university funding. When I became the director the university funded one classified position, one graduate assistant and half of the director position. Six years ago we were able to get full funding for the director. More recently we hired a tenure track assistant professor as well as a post-doc, all funded through Human Ecology and university funding. In addition, I've been able to support in part or fully, two to three instructor positions from distance teaching revenue and four to five full or part-time positions funded by grants and contracts.

- Increased staff and faculty from three to 12
- Increased the number of elective course offerings
- Started and ended a gerontology program at the Salina campus
- Moved our office from Leasure to Justin Hall.
- Re-instituted gerontology club in 2013. Group is emphasizing bucket lists and have held two sky-dive events with older adults in their nineties participating. The club has more than 120 members.
- Recognized for our successful Careers in Aging promotions held every spring.
- Preparing for the fifth annual Personhood and Dementia conference.
- Planned a third alumni group think tank to prepare Center on Aging research agendas and to continue Barbara Stowe award discussions about managed care and person-centered care. (Fall, 2013).
- Graduated 13 graduate students and 41 undergraduate secondary majors (2012-2103)
- Organized a research brainstorming social event sponsored by KSU president, Kirk Schultz and the Knowledge Based Economic Development team to encourage local and regional research and product development in aging. Created study groups from the session ideas and will meet again in the fall for further development (2013).
- Member and one of the leaders of the I-70 Corridor for Aging Research (2013).
- Hosted a conference "Personhood and Dementia" with two nationally known speakers, Dan Kuhn and Jim Vanden Bosch (2013).
- Instituted changes to our long-term care administration program yielding a training that encompasses the changes expected in caregiving for older adults. (2012).
- Maintained the highest number of enrollments in Great Plain IDEA gerontology students and instituted changes to increase graduation completion rates.
- Graduated 70 secondary majors for the 2011-2012 academic year.
- Hosted the Secretary on Aging, Shawn Sullivan, for a day of activities in conjunction with his recognition for an advocacy award for Human Ecology. (2012)
- Added a full-time instructor position (2012)
- Created a K-State faculty lecture series at Meadowlark Hills. Faculty do presentations once a month. The series started in the fall of 2010.
 - Ethics and Health Care (on-line)
 - Creativity and Aging
- Increased full-time staff from two to five
- Working on plans for a satellite office for the Center on Aging at Meadowlark Hills

- Developed mentoring program for students using older adult mentors
- Creating a Learning Community at Meadowlark Hills
- Have awarded over $20,000 in research seed grants for gerontology faculty in 05/06 and 06/07.
- Developed coordinating brochures and recruitment materials
