Karen Stobbe is the director of In the Moment, an organization that uses improvisation to help train caregivers as they deal with the effects of Alzheimer's/dementia on their loved ones. She has personal experience as a caregiver for a family member with the disease. Karen and her husband, Mondy Carter, wrote and will also perform in a two-person performance titled, "Sometimes Ya Gotta Laugh," which takes you on a fast-paced journey through the world of caregiving; the laughter and the tears.

David Babcock, "The Knitting Runner," broke the Guinness World Record for the longest scarf knitted while running a marathon in 2013. David runs to raise awareness and support for Alzheimer's research (as did the previous record holder). He most recently ran the New York City Marathon while finger-knitting. He'll teach us his finger-knitting technique too!

We will also be joined by a panel of individuals diagnosed with Alzheimer's or other forms of dementia. They will share their experiences. More info at <http://www.he.k-state.edu/aging/outreach/personhood-dementia/> or 785-532-5945.

Free! All are welcome — no registration required.
