

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES
FAMILY STUDIES AND HUMAN SERVICES – M.S.

- Students will demonstrate the ability to synthesize and evaluation scientific concepts, theories, and research/professional literature related to one's area of emphasis in the School of Family Studies & Human Services
- Students will demonstrate professional competency in solving applied problems associated with one's area of emphasis.
- Students will demonstrate competence in reading, interpreting, and translating research to best practice in one's area of emphasis.
- Students will be able to apply ethical guidelines in personal and professional conduct, including research with human subjects, with respect for human diversity.